PLAGUE SPOT IN TOWN.

Residents on Beretania street between Piikoi and Keeaumoku streets, once again raise their voices in complaint of the notorious tenement quarters situated in their neighborhood. Times without number protests have been lodged with the authorities against the unsanitary condition of the premises referred to, and also against the licensing of such a nuisance.

From Beretania street nothing but the ordinary Chinese shack, used as a general store, and a wretched-looking poi-shop can be seen, but after passing these buildings, walking upon a couple of planks raised some two or three inches above the ground, the visitor finds himself flanked by two long rows of buildings, subdivided into exceedingly small rooms, and all occupied by a mixed population of Hawaiians, Japs and Chinese, herded together without regard to health requirements.

The floors of these buildings are all about level with the ground and at the mauka end, between the two rows, is another structure of the same kind, which is subdivided into a general kitchen and bathroom, while close by is a row of earth closets. The ground has a gentle slope toward Keeaumoku street and surface water drains under the sleeping-quarters and settles there. The smells coming from this section are most offensive.

In addition to these nuisances, scores of Chinese gather from all parts of town and devote their time till after midnight to gambling and loud conversation frequently followed by fighting amongst themselves or with the Japs residing there. The Hawaiian quarters are most certainly in urgent need of prompt attention, while the condition of the whole place warrants the immediate visit of an intelligent officer of the Board of Health, especially at this time, when the regular assembling of Chinese from all districts means the possible introduction of the plague into one of the most desirable residence districts in Honolulu.

THE ISLAND TRAFFIC.

Seven days' quarantine is demanded of all vessels now in port before leaving for the other Islands, to begin from the time ship, passengers and crews have been examined by a health officer at an anchorage selected by the Harbor Master. Those vessels which have not yet entered port are considered free ships and will be permitted to sail without detention in quarantine.

The Board of Health have issued orders that all invoices for freight by outward vessels must be submitted to them for approval; after permission to ship has been so obtained freight is to be taken from the wharf in lighters and transhipped to vessels anchored beyond the lighthouse. Crews of vessels are not allowed to come ashore, and an officer of the Board is on duty upon every steamer to see these instructions are carried out.

The Mokoli arrived on Wednesday night and sailed last night for Kaunakakai and Kahului with 900 bags of rice. She will take on provisions, coal, etc., at Kahului and return to this port, and next week will resume her regular route under ordinary conditions.

The Maui arrived yesterday morning with 100 head of cattle and 140 cords of wood. She discharged her cattle at the pens under the supervision of a health officer and Captain Clark, and then moved to the other side of the harbor outside the lighthouse, where her cargo of firewood was discharged into lighters.

No news of any kind from the Claudine and Helene has been sent ashore, so it is taken for granted that all are well on board.

The Lehua went out yesterday morning, bound for Molokai, Lanai and Maui ports. Of the Inter-Island fleet the Ke Au Hou, Waialeale, Kauai and Iwaland are free from quarantine regulations. The Hall, Niihau and Mikahala are already anchored outside and the Noeau joins them tomorrow.

It is expected that the free ships will be able to handle the freight offered this week and by next week the full fleets will be at liberty and the only inconvenience will be the double handling through the medium of lighters and its attendant expense.

RESTAURANTS CLOSED.

The Chinese restaurant in the old Woman's Exchange building on Merchant street, has been closed since Tuesday night. The employees, who live in Chinatown, were of course not permitted to leave the quarantined district on Wednesday morning. A quantity of meat left overnight in the icebox is now making its condition known to the neighborhood, and will probably be removed today. Ah Chuck's restaurant, on Hotel street, is also closed for the same reason.

Desky's New Hotel.

Mr. Desky offers $100 for the most appropriate name for his newly projected hotel on Pacific Heights. Fifty dollars will go to the winner; $35 to the next best man and $15 to the third. Letters should be addressed to Bruce Waring Co., and marked "Hotel." No limit will be fixed to the number of names suggested, but all must be easy of pronunciation. The hotel is to be a big affair—346 feet long and 120 feet deep with three acres of terrace and lawn. So a dignified name will be most appropriate.
